

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

Jones [Louisville, Ky.], Albany, New York. J. Munsell's Sons 1891, pp. 442 with 30 portraits, and 75 fac-similes of manuscripts, copies of Armorial Seals, views &c. For sale by the author.

Judge Jones' history of this noted family, which has given so many distinguished sons to the civil and military service of the Country, has long been well and favorably known. He is the fortunate possessor of a very large and valuable collection of family papers covering the period from the emigrant to the present time. Many of these papers contained signatures, armorial seals and other matters of interest outside as well as within the family connection, and many have desired to have access to them. In addition to genealogical information they contain much relating to social history, education and economic conditions in the colonial period.

The author has now made many of these documents accessible in a new edition. This edition was prepared by using the sheets of the first edition, making large additions which are the result of investigations since that was published and inserting a very large number of good photographic fac-similes.

The book is of great interest and should be in all collections of American genealogy.

GENEALOGY OF THE BASKERVILLE FAMILY AND SOME ALLIED FAMILIES INCLUDING THE ENGLISH DESCENT FROM 1266 A. D. By Patrick Hamilton Baskerville, Richmond, Va. W. Ellis Jones' Sons Inc. 1912 pp. 214 with four illustrations and index.

This handsome and carefully prepared book was compiled by Mr. Baskerville for distribution among the members of his family. It treats of the Baskervilles, descended from John Baskerville of York County, Va., a younger son of Thomas Baskerville of Old Withington, Cheshire, the Hamiltons, Turners (of N. C.), Watkins', Douglas, Dickenson, Bolling, Barber, Norvell, Minge, Harrison, Eaton, Coleman, Embry, Gordon, Murray, Kennon, Worsham, Rolfe and others.

Of course most of these families are treated of only in their relation to the main subject of the book. There is a large number of family charts, and the whole work is very well done.

THE GLENGARRY McDONALDS OF VIRGINIA BY MRS. FLORA McDONALD WILLIAMS. With an Introductory sketch of the early History of the Glengarry clan, Louisville. Geo. G. Felter Company 1911. pp. 340 with numerous portraits &c.

Angus McDonald, believed with good reason to have been of the Glengarry family, was out in the "45", came to Virginia in 1746, settled finally in Frederick Co., named his new home "Glengarry" and did good service as a commander against the Indians. His descendants have been men of prominence, and as became their descent, have, been active in all of our wars. Mrs. Williams has written an admirable family history which is greatly helped by the number of letters, diaries &c. of the Civil War period to which she has access. Every McDonald above the age of childhood was in the Confederate Army.

THE MCCUES OF THE OLD DOMINION. Supplemented by Brief Charts of the Steele, Arbuckle, and Cunningham Families. Compiled by John N. McCue member of the Virginia Historical Society June 1912. Mo. Printing & Pub. Co. Mexico, Mo. pp. 272 with 57 portraits and other illustrations.

Another of our well known Scotch-Irish families is here treated of in a very thorough and comprehensive way Mr. McCue has evidently spared no pains to make his book as complete and accurate as possible.

WELSH SETTLEMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA. By Charles H. Browning, Philadelphia, W. J. Campbell, 1912, pp. 631, with 17 maps and illustrations, and index.

Beginning in the year 1682 a considerable emigration of Quakers from Wales to Pennsylvania took place.

This book exploits the chronicles and economic history of these Welsh Friends (and, incidentally, of the Welsh Baptists, and other Welsh American colonists, who removed in Colonial times to Penn's province), and their families, ancestors and descendants; records of their land companies, and of their plantations in the "Welsh Tract;" sketches of their Meetings, monthly and preparative, and of their meeting houses (especially that of the Merion Preparatory Meeting); documentary accounts of the administration of civil affairs in the "Welsh Barony;" the annals of the Welsh townships, Merion, Haverford, Radnor, etc., the substantiated story of the struggles between the Welsh Friends and William Penn, and his representatives; memoirs of many early Welsh Friends, etc., and it is such subjects that indicate the general scope of this work.

DISCOURSE ON THE LIVES AND CHARACTERS OF THE EARLY PRESIDENTS AND TRUSTEES OF HAMPDEN-SIDNEY COLLEGE. Delivered at the Centenary of the Founding of the College, on the 14th day of June, 1876. By Hugh Blair Grisby, LL. D. President of the Virginia Historical Society and Chancellor of the College of William and Mary, Richmond. The Hermitage Press, 1913, pp. X, 46, with several portraits.

The mingling of careful historical study with a great amount of information derived from individuals and never before in print, which gave such interest and value to Mr. Grisby's addresses on the Conven-